"Professional, personable and knowledgeable are three words that describe the service Linda provides. Her straightforward and practical approach cuts through the mystique which often surrounds the world of HR and her supportive but realistic style adds value to the decision making process.

I have no hesitation in recommending Linda Underhill to any organisation seeking straightforward advice on HR matters."

SM - (Recruitment Consultant)

"Linda is extremely knowledgeable when it comes to the complex subject of HR and employees. I know this from hearing her give a talk on the latest developments on the subject and from the rapid response when I put a specific situation to her one evening on a very late e-mail. Her prompt, very detailed response the following morning covered more scenarios than I thought possible and really prepared me for the meeting I had. Excellent service – highly recommended."

We enjoy working with Linda because she is reliable, trustworthy and extremely proactive. In business it's so much easier dealing with professionals in each field rather than trying to muddle through on your own.
